Junior Youth Academy Now Enrolling Academy provides middle schoolers a look at law enforcement

This summer, Danville middle schoolers will have a great opportunity to learn about local law enforcement when the Danville Police Department holds a Junior Youth Academy. The academy is a free program designed for students, ages 12 to 14. This one day, 4 hour, “behind the scenes” day camp is a chance to learn about the exciting career of Law Enforcement through demonstrations on the topics of: police tactics, forensic collections, K-9 handling, report writing, investigations and traffic patrol.

The Junior Youth Academy is scheduled for Thursday, June 15, 2017 from 1:00 p.m. - 5:00 p.m. at the Danville Police Department. 510 La Gonda Way, Danville. Space is limited so pre-registration is required for this FREE program.

To register, contact School Program Coordinator Lauren Brown at lbrown@danville.ca.gov or (925) 314-3715
